

Jamie Whyte

Jamie Whyte is the Head of Research and Publishing at Oliver Wyman Financial Services, based in the London office. He has previously worked in the Sydney, Singapore and London offices of Oliver Wyman, where he advised banks on risk measurement, strategy and performance in centivisation.

Jamie has also worked as a management consultant for the Boston Consulting Group, as a lecturer at Cambridge University and as a Foreign Exchange trader. He has a Ph.D. from Cambridge University and a BA from Auckland University.

Jamie is the author of two books on logic. He is a regular contributor of opinion articles to the Wall Street Journal, The Times, the Financial Times and Standpoint magazine.

In 2006 he won the Bastiat Prize for journalism and in 2010 he was runner up. He speaks regularly at conferences, think tanks and universities, and is an occasional guest commentator on radio and television.

