

Professor Enrico Colombatto

Enrico Colombatto (1954) is a professor of economics at the University of Turin, where he teaches courses in the foundations of policymaking, international economics, and growth and development.

He is the director of one of Italy's leading research institutes, the International Centre for Economic Research, and he has been a board member of the Council on Public Policy since 2001.

His present research interests cover the economics of growth and development, law and economics, and Austrian economics.

His forthcoming book, Markets, Morals and Policy Making: A New Defense of Free-Market Economics, will be published in 2011 by Routledge.